AutoLib NG: Library Management System (ILMS):

The library employs the Integrated software Auto-lib NG software (Next Generation Version), a state-of-the-art multi-user, multi-tasking library information system that supports all core in-house operations and ensures seamless automation and efficient management of library resources. This includes Acquisition, Cataloguing, Circulation, Serial Control, and Online Public Access Catalogue (OPAC).

The library's database is maintained and regularly updated to ensure that it accurately reflects the current collection. This ongoing maintenance guarantees that users have access to the most up-to-date information about available resources, enhancing the overall efficiency and reliability of the library.

To support the diverse needs of its users, the library provides comprehensive access to electronic resources both on-campus and remotely. This ensures that students and faculty can easily access necessary materials from anywhere, facilitating continuous learning and research.
