C-REACTIVE PROTEIN (Serum)

Test	Result	Unit	Bio. Ref. Interval
OBSERATION	: 5.20		0-6
RESULT	: Negative For C -Reactive Protein
METHOD	: Immunoturbidimetry

METHOD : Measurement of agglutination of Latex adsorbed anti-CRP antibodies by Nephelometry using Mispa i2 (Agappe), Quantitative assay

INTERPRETATION :

- C - Reactive Proteins is an Acute Phase Reactant which rises in response to stressful and inflammatory states that occur with infection, injury, surgery, trauma
- Bacterial infections stimulate higher levels of CRP than viral ones.
- CRP levels return to normal quickly as compared to ESR and leucocyte counts following successful therapies.
- Elevated levels of CRP are found to be present after first trimester of pregnancy and persist until delivery.
- CRP levels are elevated in women who are on oral contraceptives.
- The commonly used anti-inflammatory drugs or immunosuppressive drugs including steroids do not affect CRP response unless the disease activity is affected
- Since CRP production is nonspecific response to tissue injury , it is recommended that the results of the test should be co-related with clinical findings to arrive at the final diagnosis.

Respected Sir,

With reference to the mail dated on May, 29th, 2023 regarding the intimation of my medical issue, I am now writing to formally request a leave of absence from 22nd May, 2023 to 08th July, 2023 (7 weeks). As I mentioned in my initial application on 29th May, 2023, I was recently diagnosed stomach ulcers and gallbladder stones and, as per my doctor's recommendation, underwent surgery for the removal of Gallbladder. I have included my medical certificate as evidence.

I understand that work must go on, I appreciate your understanding and cooperation in this time of need and I hope I can repay the management's patience and sympathy that I've been shown during the medical emergency.
