Problems Encountered and Resources Required:

As the School was 40 kms away from the Institute , it was difficult to include all the Students of the Institute during visit .Due to a very hectic academic session, the institute and students barely manage time to conduct more programs and researches in adopted school.

Best Practice – 2

Yasho Gurukul - Mentorship Program

Best Practice-2

Title: Yasho Gurukul – Mentor-Mentee Programme

Objectives:

1. To provide guidance in learning process so as to make best use of facilities and resources made available to Mentee by the Institute
2. To provide personal counselling to improve the performance and reduce the stress of the students
3. To provide personal support to the Mentee through ups & downs of academia to reinforce a sense of resilience
4. To help mentee through academic, personal, professional as well as emotional support

Context:

The students at the Institute come from a wide range of socio-economic, cultural, and regional backgrounds. For many, this is their first experience of professional college life in the city, which can be quite stressful, particularly for those away from their families for the first time. These students often face additional challenges such as choosing a specialization (career option) and adjusting to the new environment. These pressures can negatively impact their personal and academic growth as well as their physical and mental health. Students from educationally and financially disadvantaged backgrounds may feel isolated and hesitant to participate in class, which can hinder their performance. Given the student-teacher ratio in the classroom, providing individual attention can be challenging. To address these issues, the Institute has introduced a Mentorship Programme as a solution.

Practice Description:

Mentoring sessions are held regularly every Saturday and Wednesday from 4:00 PM to 5:00 PM, and attendance is mandatory for all students. One mentor is assigned for every twenty students. The mentor monitors the mentee's personal growth, including extracurricular activities, behavioral issues, and career-related challenges. The mentorship standards encompass academic performance, attendance, personal development, professional progress, and general criteria. Mentors receive detailed information about their mentees' academic achievements, including attendance records, participation in value-added courses, completion of MOOCs, and results from mid-term and end-of-semester exams.

Website : www.iims.ac.in E-mail : info@iims.ac.in

Evidence of Success:

The success of the Mentorship Programme is evident through several key indicators:

- a. Improved examination results
- b. Increased student attendance and greater involvement in classroom activities
- c. Reduced dropout rates
- d. Higher participation in co-curricular and extracurricular activities
- e. Respectful relationships between teachers and students
- f. Better discipline and harmonious, friendly relationships among students
- g. Higher quality internship projects and more student-authored research paper publications
- h. Greater engagement with e-learning and self-learning platforms, even during the COVID-19 period

These results demonstrate the development of long-lasting relationships between staff and students. Through this initiative, the Institute has ensured the overall development of students and enhanced the commitment of staff members.

Problems Encountered and Resources Required:

Initially, some students were reserved and reluctant to open up. However, over time, staff members built relationships of mutual trust and care, allowing students to feel comfortable sharing their issues and views with their mentors. The programme's focus on personalized attention required regular meetings and meticulous documentation. Despite challenges during the COVID-19 lockdown, the programme adapted by conducting online meetings and maintaining records on MS-Teams. Each mentor keeps a detailed file on individual mentees, documenting discussions from mentorship meetings.

Integrated Software Development for Enhanced Institutional Management

Best Practice-3

Title: "Integrated Software Development for Enhanced Institutional Management"

Objectives:

1. To Provide students with practical, hands-on experience in software development by enhancing technical skills in programming languages, development tools, and methodologies.
2. Apply theoretical knowledge gained in classrooms to real-world projects.

Context:

The MCA Department at the Institute has established a Software Development Cell (SDC). The SDC oversees projects that give students the opportunity to work within an organized team structure and adhere to project timelines. Students benefit from experiencing various roles within a software development team, such as programmer, test lead, team lead, manager, and maintenance engineer. This exposure provides them with a comprehensive understanding of the entire software development lifecycle.

Practice Description:

The Students at the Institute have developed

- a. Conference website – This website is maintained and updated regularly by the team of faculty and students.
- b. Attendance Software – The attendance software works on precision of the attendance of the individual student across all sessions, subjects and semesters.
- c. Mentor Mentee Software –Entire tracking of the mentee with respect to various courses, certifications is possible through this software.
- d. ERP Software Development ERP software works for development of LMS (Learning Management System) to share academic material for the remote access. The MCQ Test module, feedback and Project management module facilitate the automation.

Evidence of Success: The result is evident, as the students have built and successfully maintained its Research Journal Website and the Conference website. Both the website are live and can be traced using <https://yashomanthan.co.in> <https://icmit.yashomanthan.co.in>. The Software developments are in progress and on the verge of completion.

Problems Encountered and Resources Required:

The Lack of skilled students much to the expectations of the challenges prevailing in development trends.

E-Waste Collection Initiative

Best Practice-4

Title: "E-Waste Collection Initiative"

Objectives:

1. To implement preventive and curative measures for the proper disposal of E-waste.
2. To raise awareness about E-waste management and its broader benefits.
3. To establish a public-academia partnership for the systematic execution of these practices.

Context:

Disposing of old, outdated, and non-working electronic items such as monitors, computers, keyboards, mice, power supplies, printers, and batteries poses a significant problem due to the hazardous materials they contain, like lithium, lead, and zinc. Improper disposal of these items can be harmful to living beings. To address this issue, the institute has partnered with Harshita Green Recyclers certified vendors for E-waste disposal. The electronic equipment slated for disposal is collected at a central storage location and then handed over to these certified vendors. The institute receives a certificate from the vendor, ensuring that the E-waste is disposed of according to prevailing norms without harming the environment.

Practice Description:

IIMS has an active MOU with Harshita Green Recyclers an E waste management Company. The Institute has undertaken several initiatives for e waste management. The Institute collects E-waste (including any electrical and electronic equipment such as CDs, remote controls, chargers, etc.) from students, teachers, and staff from nearby Institutes and housing societies. The collected E-waste is handed over to Harshita Recyclers. The Organisation focuses on waste management and supports livelihood opportunities for waste collectors and other stakeholders. The collected E-waste is recycled and processed in an environmentally safe manner. The Institute regularly contributes their E-waste to this initiative instead of selling it to scrap dealers.

Evidence of Success:

IIMS has collected around 750 kg e waste material to be disposed of from academic institutes, corporates and households in nearby vicinity. IIMS has partnered with e waste management company which helps to manage and dispose of the collected waste.

Problems Encountered and Resources Required:

IIMS has faced challenges like limited awareness among stakeholders, reluctance to dispose of electronic devices properly, and logistical issues in coordinating with recycling agencies.

IIMS needs Resources like e-waste collection bins, educational materials, more collaboration with recycling agencies.
